

Great Chazy River, NY - Perry Mills (Mooers to Hwy 87)

Introduction

The Great Chazy river runs in the northern part of New York state, near the Canadian border. This section of the Great Chazy river, as opposed to the sections upstream, offers an enjoyable run through the countryside, provided one can safely run or portage the few drops and small rapids.

Difficulty

Length: 14-21 km

Easy, but requires ability to safely stop in current upstream of several drops and a dam.

Access and Shuttle

See the road map provided.

Water levels

There is an USGS hydrographical station on the Great Chazy:

04271500 GREAT CHAZY RIVER AT PERRY MILLS NY

<http://waterdata.usgs.gov/ny/nwis/uv?04271500>

The river is reliably runnable during the Spring and late in the Fall (November). During the low water periods, the river may also be runnable at the price of some wading, but that has not been verified. Please send the information if you ever try!
